“ I met "John" one day while he was tending his garden...and what a great one it was!!! He told me his garden secrets, and soon ours was "pretty Good" for newcomers he said. John was always friendly and told me stories about his childhood. He allowed me to read about him in a book that his Sister had written about him and the family. If you didn't read the book, I'll tell you, we were privileged to know the man. He was special in a hundred ways. Rest In Peace John. I'll always think of you when I see the green in the rainbow.

“ Uncle John was like a big brother to me! He was there for me when I started first grade at Hewitt and watched over me whenever I would visit him. I often followed him to visit Marlo or Fritz and Madge about a mile away cutting through the pastures -- it would be dark and cold but I always felt safe and stayed warm because John walked fast and expected me to keep up. In my mind, Uncle John was not afraid of anything so I was never afraid!

John loved to garden and was always helping people. When I'd visit him in Verndale John would take me to his garden. I think he gave most of his vegetables away -- he cared so much about others. He was "a good neighbor"!

Rest in Peace Uncle! I love you.

“ Well, once an Electrician....always an Electrician...The Branstner Brothers all worked hard at their jobs. The tradition has been carried onto the next generation. When John lived out here in California, he would walk the two miles into town and then back to his trailer, and there he would invite Bruce and I and Jessica over for a great steak dinner with all the fixin's. He was a great cook. I know he cherished his Garden...he planted alot of seeds when he shared his blessings that came from his garden. He is now in a great place right alongside my brother John and with his brother Loyd, my Dad and with their sister's Marie, Viola and Pearl, Judy and Bernice and their Mom and Dad all sitting around the table sharing their own Harvest and laughing and joking with that Branstner smile.
Love ya..your niece Debra

“ John was a man of few words, was very quick witted and had a good sense of humor. He loved gardening and giving away the bounty that God blessed him with. John loved cats and lived to take care of his furry friends. John will be missed greatly by his many friends in Verndale. He cared for those around him, running errands and serving them in whatever way he could. Good bye John I am sure you are tending the Lord's garden with your brother in law Hermie:)

“ So sorry to hear about Ben (John) since we moved to Verndale I got to see him quite often. We always had a good visit about the Walker and Branstner families. I grew up out in Oak Valley with the Branstner, McQuay, Walker Marsh families. Knew Benny when he was in school, altho he was 7 years older, but I still remember riding the bus with him.

Everyone in Verndale like him, especially in the housing where he lived. I guess he helped out the elderly ladies alot.

Rest in peace dear Benjamin John.

God's Blessing to your whole family for his loss. Sinerely, Sandy
