“ My sister, Joni, has a sense of humor, but what she says is true. Whenever I saw Colette and gave her a big hug, she would say oh, I know which one you are....you are MaryAnn...and I would say, no I'm Joni! And we wonder why she got the three of us mixed up. My first reaction to your mom being gone was yet another loss, emptiness and sadness, and then I envisioned what it was like for her on her trip to Heaven. The excitement of being with the rest of the family. The first two people I saw standing there were Chops and Earl. Regina and Flora were in the background singing as usual. Rosie had just made a fresh batch of molasses cookies. Joseph was rolling a prince albert cigarette (remember how we liked to do that for him?). Phonse was talking farming with Grandma and Grandpa. The rest were plucking feathers off of chickens. And there was my dad standing off to the side by himself and as he saw Colette he said, what took you so long? So, from Grandpa and Grandma down to Tony and all those in between, cherish the memories they have left for us. Keeping your families in our hearts and prayers as you share memories this week. By the way, Colette, this is Doris (for real!)

“ Thinking of you all with love and prayers as you start the Chapter in your lives of not having your parents with you here on earth. This is a very funny feeling. They are together now and with most of their family member. Lots of partying going on. You wonder who is the big winner in Bingo.

"Till you're together forever in time, Thank God for the memories your Mom left behind."

“ Within three months my dad and Colette left this world to join the rest of their family. As hard as it is and was, they are all at peace. I will miss your mom alot. I always was her favorite niece but she never let on. :) She would get Doris , Annie, and I mixed up sometimes and well we had to play with her a little. She'd think she knew I was Joni, and I would say,, are you sure? maybe I am Doris,. or I could be Annie, who Colette has always called Mary Ann. She would say oh go on. I know which one you are. Sorry of your loss. I still feel that emptiness without my dad. Praying for each and everyone of you. Take care..... Joni Malone or Annie? Doris? haha.
