“ My deepest sympathy goes out to Dean's family! While working with Dean for about 16-17 years there are so many stories I could tell. From the Vikings report the day after the game, to what is happening around the area with all the newspapers he needed to get! He always was on top of things. He always seem to convince some customers he was a pretty good fisherman with some of the fish he would give to them. Only to get more from Chris. Now he made sure he got his fair share also, he loved having a fish fry at work. And I can't forget all of the stories he had about his family and grandkids. He will always be missed at the elevator! Time is so short, never got to visit with him once he retired and i regret that tremendously! Not a day goes by that we don't use a saying he used to say or a story gets brought up. One of the most recent sayings was " WWDD" What Would Dean Do! Lol But I'll end this with another famous Dean saying... "come on man" ... Come on man you didn't need to leave us so soon.....

“ Dean taught me to play Rummy when I was young, and Rummy was played a LOT at Gramma’s house over the years. When I was a teenager Dean had a beautiful blue Ford. It took some persuading, but he let Sharon, Debbie and I ride along a few times. I remember his birthday every year as it’s the day after mine. I’ll continue to think of him. Terri and family, Dean is now resting easy on a distant shore where we’ll all gather again one day. May the promise of eternal life bring you peace and comfort in your grief.
