“ The first thing that came to mind upon hearing of Fern's passing was what a good life she lead. She faced a number of significant challenges along the way, such as her first battle with cancer with a crop of young children to care for at the same time. She lost an infant son. There were lean times and mouths to feed. Many of us will pass through life untouched by such difficulties. Fern faced such challenges in life with courage, strength and grace. She was generous to a fault and one of the most thoughtful people I ever knew. Whatever she gave, whether of her time, care or sage advice, it was always straight from the heart and you can't beat that.

“ I'm so sorry I'm not there in body, please know I am there, and have been in spirit. I just veiwed the video, very beautiful. My deepest sympathy on the loss of your mother. My thoughts and prayers are with each of you. I came across this and hope it helps a little.

*"You cannot halt the hand of time,
Or live again the past,
But in your heart are memories,
That will forever last.
And as the days pass slowly
And healing tears will fall
Let the happy times shine through all the sad,
So that love may heal you all"*
