“ I am writing a life story for my father, Philip Anthony Schiller who died at 69 in 1988. I discovered this wonderful obituary for Dad's good friend Fran while doing research. Fran, Dad, Wally Mueller and Ole Nehl were the a wonderful foursome of salesmen at Merickel Lumber Mills in the 50's, 60's, and 70's with each of them retiring in the 80's. They were more than workmates -- they were close friends, their wives were close friends, and they provided each other support through good times and bad. I worked some summers next door at the hardware store, and remember how each of them treated each other and each customer with great respect. May they all rest in peace.

“ My deepest sympathy to the family. I didn't know Fran very well but he was a very nice gentleman and I'm sure he will be missed by family and friends.

“ My sincere condolences to Loraine and family. Fran was a good guy and great neighbor while I was growing up. Just talked to Tom last week and talked about how nice a guy Fran was. Sure puts a damper on your Easter but I'm sure your faith will get you thru this time of sorrow. See you Sunday night. JIM

“ I shall always treasure the experiences and fun we had together. We very much enjoyed our hunting and fishing activities together from the time I was in grade school. He was always my older brother, whom I looked up to. I will miss him very much but he will continue to live on in my memories. God favored him with a special transition from the physical to the spiritual life. His family was able to share this with him in a special way with their presence at that time. It was a real blessing and he is free of the pains and suffering of this Life. I'm praying for the greatest of God's Blessing to Fran and the family he has left behind.

“ You have lost special person from your lives but the one thing you will always have are the many fond memories. Had the opportunity to meet Fran on two occasions but my fondest memories come from Mom and Dad. He held a special place in their heart, they always spoke highly of him.
You are all in our prayers
