“ Ken was a great man! He should be remembered as standing up for what was right. He served his country as a soldier, his community as a police officer, business man, and his family by raising three girls by himself. He earned the respect of many for standing up for what was good and right with the world. God bless him and his family in the sad loss.

Some will include watching him drive tractor at a young age, euchre after work, and junked cars next to our home's For Sale sign. Even though we can't physically be with you at this time because of some medical issues, our thoughts and prayers will be with you.*
