“ I was not at all ready to say good bye to Margaret, but God had a different plan. My memories of her date back nearly 50 years all of which were great, as I deeply respected Margaret. Every time Margaret greeted me she would ask " how are you Michael ? " and every time I believed that she cared about me and genuinely wanted to know how I was, that seems rare now days. Thinking back, Margaret's family to me as a child was crazy, loving, hardworking, no question in my mind that she loved her family. Now I say good bye to a person who helped shape my childhood thoughts, helped me behave at times :) and that I will clearly miss, may God rest your soul, Margaret. Michael Gleason

“ Margaret was one of those people that one could not help but feel the love she had for family and friends. I remember when she still worked at the hospital in the evenings, I would help her fix beds or wipe down rooms and we had some of the most wonderful conversations. Her death is a huge loss to her family and many, many friends and co-workers.
