“ Renold was a wonderful guy and a great role model, and I regret that I could not be in Eagle Bend today at his memorial service. I have fond memories of growing up in Hewitt in the 1940's and 50's when he and Elsie had the grocery store and my brothers and I roamed the village and its surroundings with Charles and Tom. Since then, our lives have intersected less frequently but I have always admired Renold. He was a good businessman and he enjoyed fully the pleasures of living in Minnesota with his family and friends. I like to think of Renold and my dad Maury in the same vein -- they grew up together through the church in Wrightstown and school in Bertha. They shared the values of rural-small town Minnesota, subscribing to integrity, hard work, neighborliness, love of church and family. They were good providers for their families and by example of their lives set high standards for their children. My wife Jaynie and I recall fondly that Renold and Crystal came to our wedding in Honolulu in 1978. We send our warmest aloha to Crystal and Charles and Tom and all of Renold's extended families. We take solace in the fact that Renold's long life was well lived, very well lived.
