“ Hello Jan. I was surprised to see that Wendell had died. Please accept my sympathy. I remember well those many mornings you and Wendell had breakfast at the Uptown Cafe at that table across from the waitress station. After Mary and Guy sold the cafe, we ended up having coffee at the Boondock's. I would occasionally see Wendell at McDonald's. He always had a friendly hello and wasn't afraid to laugh and enjoy visiting. We must appreciate every day the Good Lord give us, right?
